 Third Sunday of Easter
 I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me. Psalm 30:2

Weekly News

- This is the Third Sunday of Easter. In the first reading we hear how the apostles were ordered to stop teaching about Jesus. Their faith gave them the courage to continue to believe and share the love of Christ with many. May our faith also continue to grow and let others see how Jesus lives in us.
- Rosary-We will be praying a decade of the Rosary for the Month of May each morning. During the day we will pray the Memorare. Students may bring in their own rosaries if they wish.
- Bud, Not Buddy continues to bring about many wonderful discussion. We have discussed Hoovervilles, homelessness, and the desperation people felt in their situation. They wanted to work. The focus content areas this week have been character development, cause and effect, and summarizing skills.
- MAPS Testing-This week the students will be testing on language art concepts.
- State Presentations-Students have turned in their research packets, practiced their presentations, and are busy making last minute changes/additions. They will begin presenting to the class on Monday. The students have been reminded to have notecards/notes while presenting so that they may be facing the audience. Be sure to check out the students' amazing projects on Classdojo next week.
