Kindergarten News

February 7, 2025

Dear Parents,

We made it through 5 days of school and even got to see some sunshine today! I'm definitely hoping for another full week of learning next week!

100th Day of School Projects

Thank you for all of your help and over-the-top creativity with the 100th day of school projects! We have had a lot of compliments on them, and I really appreciate your extra efforts in making these special for the kids.

February Birthdays

We have 3 kindergarten birthdays in February! First, we would like to wish Kendall a Happy Birthday! She will be celebrating her birthday TOMORROW, February 8! Aria Mae will celebrate her birthday next Wednesday, and Yohan will celebrate his birthday on the 22nd.

Charity Day

This coming Monday is our monthly charity day. Students are being asked to donate supplies for the Clay Street Center here in Greenville.

Items such as paper towels, wet wipes and disinfectant wipes would be greatly appreciated!

Students may wear jeans. Thank you!

Valentine's Day

We will be celebrating Valentine's Day on Friday, February 14. Students may wear red/pink/festive clothing, etc. Please have your child write out/make a card for each of their classmates and the following special people.
