Kindergarten News

March 14, 2025

Dear Parents,

We are so close to spring! The kids have been so happy to wear less "stuff" at recess. Thank you for sending in lighter coats for days when we don't need to be so bundled up. We are definitely excited about spring, warmer weather, St. Patrick's Day, and rollerskating!

THANK YOU MYSTERY READERS!

We have been blessed with 1-2 readers each day, sometimes even three! We've had readers with treats, readers with props, and readers with awesome cowgirl accents! If you did not get a chance to read, or would even like to read again, please let me know! It doesn't have to be during March Reading Month- you are welcome during ANY month! Thank you!

Students have been reading like crazy, and I am so grateful to you for your help at home! They are bringing books home as part of their daily homework, and have really enjoyed picking new ones each day. Please do not feel as if you need to read ALL the books brought home. I know there are some eager kids bringing 5-10 books home each day, and I certainly do not want to discourage their interest and love of new books! Please feel free to read as much/little as works into your schedule. Thank you!

Rollerskating Information

- Students may wear jeans and are encouraged to wear green in honor of St. Patrick. For safety reasons, please do not wear necklaces or large accessories.
- We will be leaving school around 10:15. You are welcome to meet us at the skating rink!

- Pizza, popsicles and water will be provided. Thank you PTO! Please feel free to send extra food, if needed.

Please have your child return any/all shamrock reading charts after Spring Break. I will send extras home if your child would like to read during vacation, and prizes will be awarded upon return to school on March 31. Thank you!

We have been doing an amazing job of participating during prayer, and students are learning about the Stations of the Cross. We are reading from the Bible each day, learning different ways to demonstrate a given number, making prayer partner cards, writing short sentences and learning to recognize numbers by playing bingo.

Have a wonderful weekend and enjoy the warmer weather!
