Kindergarten News

April 4, 2025

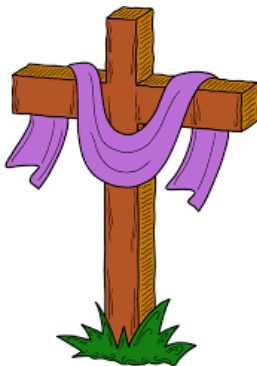

Dear Parents,

It was so nice to finally see the sun the last couple days, even for just a few hours! I'd love to tell you that we won't need hats, mittens and coats anymore, but it looks like it will still be in the 30's and 40's for the next week or so. Thank you for sending in warm clothing for recess. The weather has been unpredictable, at best!

Report cards are being finalized, and I will be sending a hard copy home next week. Kindergarten does not use Infinite Campus for grading, which makes it somewhat difficult to access your child's report card. I am so proud of the amazing progress in our kindergarten students over the past couple months! Our math, reading and writing skills have greatly improved, and students are showing so much excitement and confidence in their reading!

Congratulations to all of our students for their efforts and determination during March Reading Month! Prizes were awarded this week, and all of our students were very deserving of their awards!

Thank you for your help at home!

Holy Week will be here soon, and we have been learning a lot about the The Last Supper, Good Friday, Stations of the Cross, and Easter. Father Jim visited our classroom before Spring Break, and the students shared all of their knowledge with him! Just a reminder that we do not have school on Good Friday (April 18) or Monday, April 21.

Happy Birthday

John!

Thank you to this week's Mystery Reader,
Mr. Schrader!

Charity Day

We will have a bonus Charity Day on Monday to support our local veterans. Please refer to the email sent out earlier this week for items to donate.

Thank you!

Have a wonderful weekend!
