

Fifth & Sixth Grade Notes

(and 7/8 Grade Math Notes, too)

January 14, 2021

Dear Families,

Another week with a day off! Students are not going to be able to handle a 5-day week if this keeps up. Monday, January 17, is a scheduled day off for Martin Luther King Jr.

The 2nd marking period ends Friday next week. Missing homework and corrections should be turned in for credit by Friday.

Conferences are being scheduled soon. Please email me to let me know if you'd like a virtual conference or if you have a specific day or time that works best. Conference times will be going home next Friday.

Finally, we started our mummification project. Check the St. Charles Facebook page for a few photos. Students were already planning how to decorate their mummy in about 4-5 weeks. We will be testing on Ancient Egypt later next week.

We continue to learn about baptism and the sacraments in Theology.

Next week's vocabulary words are on the back. We continue reading The Call of the Wild. It was a bit difficult for students to understand the point of view in the beginning, but have adapted well to the manner of speaking and point of view of the narrator.

Math 5 continues is finishing up their work on volume. Testing on Tuesday.

Math 6 is finishing up their unit of ratios and rates. They will also be testing next Week.

Math 7 is working with multiplication of integers and equations.

Math 8 is busy determining slope and writing equations on a line.

Algebra is working with polynomials.

Peace,

Mrs. Sullivan
