OUR LEARNING

Thank you for your continued support of the Serve-a-thon! If you haven't registered your student yet there's still time. Don't forget to fill out the reflection form once your student has completed his or her acts of service.

This week we will continue our latest chapter books, study compound words in spelling, and learn how to take notes for our African animal research project.

The four parts of the Mass will be our focus in religion. We will learn about the Liturgy of the Word this week.

OUR LEARNING

In math we will continue learning strategies for breaking apart numbers to add and subtract. Math homework will be counting coins.

In social studies we will begin to learn about the different levels of government, starting with local and state governments.
