Our Learning

Happy Mothers Day! We are so thankful for all our Moms and we hope you feel loved this weekend and always!

This week we will work on spelling words with the air sound, learn more informational text skills, and continue working on another magazine story. In math we will add & subtract bigger numbers with regrouping, and in science we will wrap up our learning about simple machines.

MAPS testing concludes this week. Please encourage your student to do his or her best on each test. You will receive your student's scores after testing is completed.

First Communion

First Communion is almost here! We will prepare our hearts this week with a small retreat on Tuesday. Mrs. Karpus will join us for bread making. Look for an email from me with more details about Sunday, May 15th. Please pray for our First Communicants!
