GREETINGS PARENTS!

Greetings Parents,

We had a great week! Everyone seemed to be happy to be back to a routine.

Our theme this week is "Snow Flakes". We will be reading these books to go along with the theme. "Snow Is Falling" by Franklyn M. Branley, "Where Snowflakes Fall" by Claire Freedman and the classic "The Snowy Day" by Ezra Jack Keats.

Our small groups will focus on handwriting practice. The 4's class will practicing writing letters that are formed with circles or circles and lines. The 3's class will be tracing Zoo-phonics letters o, t, x and z.

We will enjoy making different snowflakes crafts for our large group activity.

A friendly reminder! Please remember to send all needed winter gear. We do go outside daily. Also, we are in need of paper towel rolls. If you are able to donate some that would be well appreciated.

God Bless,
Teresa Evans
