GREETINGS PARENTS!

I hope all of you are enjoying our warm and sunny spring weather.

This week's theme is "Earthworms". We will be exploring the Earthworm hands on! It will also include painting with brown paint, coffee grounds (dirt) and yarn (worms), making a yummy dirt and worm snack and a paper towel worm experiment. The books I will be sharing to help better understand the Earthworm are "Yucky Worms" by Vivian French, "The Worm Family Has its Picture Taken", by Jennifer Frank and David Ezra Stien, "The Greedy Worm" by Jeff Newman and "Worms For Breakfast" by Helaine Becker.

In our small learning groups we will explore science using multiple specimen centers, such as insects, birds, reptiles, mammals and sea life, for a realistic hands on exploration.

Our spiritual lesson will be based on the book "What Does a Priest Do?" by Susan O'Keefe that celebrates all of the things that our own Fr. Jim does for us.

Friendly reminder! This Monday the 28th is Kindergarten round up noon - 2pm.

Have a great week and please continue to pray for each other.

God Bless,
Teresa Evans
