

Kindergarten Classroom NEWS

December 6, 2025

Dear Parents,

Happy 2nd week of Advent! We have had a lot of fun this week learning about and celebrating Advent. The kids have been busy working on several projects, listening to Christmas music, learning about St. Nicholas, making shoes for St. Nick in the hopes of him bringing us candy, and enjoying all the snow on the playground. Our classroom shepherd, Chip, and his dog, Zip, have had several adventures in our classroom this week! We found them squished in Weston's drawer with a gift of yummy cookies!

We have been working on letters to Santa, and I will make sure those come home before break so they are ready for you to send to the North Pole! Next week we will learn about St. Juan Diego, St. Lucy, and Our Lady of Guadalupe. We will be celebrating the Immaculate Conception on Monday with a 9:00 Mass. Everyone is welcome to join us!

Thank you for continuing to send in hats, mittens, boots, and warm coats for recess! It has been very cold outside, obviously, and the kids have been well-prepared!

Stay warm and have a great weekend!
