

Kindergarten

February 5, 2026

Dear Parents,

I hope that everyone had a great week! We are definitely praying for some sun and warmer temperatures, but according to "Phil" we still have at least 6 more weeks of winter. Thank you to the parents who met with me for parent/teacher conferences this week. I look forward to meeting with the rest of you next Thursday. If I did not see you at conferences this week to give you your child's report card, I will send it home next week. Thank you!

We learned about St. Blaise this week, and had the opportunity to have our throats blessed on Tuesday. We are beginning to learn about Ash Wednesday and Lent, preparing to receive our ashes at Mass, and learning about the liturgical colors. We reviewed Jesus' first miracle, the story of the Good Samaritan, and have been practicing the Angel of God prayer.

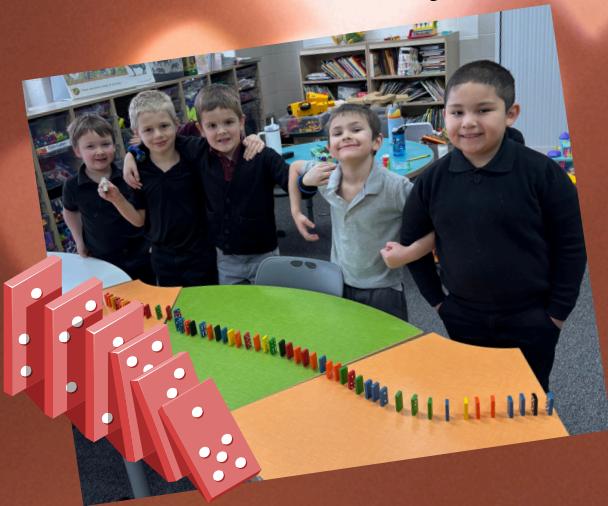

We started learning about Google docs and how to change font, size and color. Students have been practicing how to share documents with me in order to print, as well as becoming familiar with the keyboard. They were very excited to practice this! Students have also been having fun working on some fun lego creations and extensive domino runs. We've been watching our amaryllis flower sprout and bloom quickly over the past few weeks, we are looking forward to Yohan's birthday on the 20th, and the kids are already talking about making traps for the leprechaun on St. Patrick's Day!

Valentine's Day Card Exchange

We will celebrate Valentine's Day on Wednesday, February 11. Students are welcome to bring in cards/candy for classmates. We will have a small celebration during library, as well as some fun in the classroom during the day.
